

WHISPER STORY OF WRIGHT CASE

asked him if it had anything to do with the pending case, and he said, "No."

"I asked Judge Barnard if he would excuse me for a moment, as Judge Wright had sent for me, and he smilingly assented that Judge Wright was on the bench in another court and I entered and spoke to him. He motioned me and I went up to the bench, telling him that Carnody had come into the other court and told me that he (Wright) wanted to see me."

"Good God, did Carnody do that?" asked Judge Wright. He then explained that he thought I was somewhere about the building, but he didn't know I was in court, and he sent for me because Carnody said he had seen me in the corridors. Judge Wright said he wouldn't have thought of calling me away from court."

Motion to Dismiss Case.

"During the recess of court I remarked to Capt. Bell that I considered moving to dismiss the suit; that Mrs. Rauscher could not win on the incomplete evidence we had."

Easy-Smith was mistaken when he testified that I moved to dismiss the bill just after I saw Judge Wright. My motion came after the recess."

Representative Beall's witness to relate again the circumstances under which he was called for by Judge Wright."

"When was your next conversation with Judge Wright about the Rauscher divorce?"

Aided Virginia Lawyers.

"I think it was after she was sued by her husband in Virginia," said Mr. Macdonald. I went over there and her lawyers, who knew about the case, but I was not engaged in it."

"Why did you discuss the case with Judge Wright then?"

The case had originally been in the District, and I spoke to him about it when it came up in Alexandria."

"Did Judge Wright express any opinion?"

Yes, he said the thing was all over, and I am sorry the way it went."

"Judge Wright said that I do not mind telling you if I had kept jurisdiction I would have granted her a divorce."

"Did Judge Wright manifest special interest in Mrs. Rauscher or her case?"

"No. All he said was that he was sorry for her."

Questioned about his acquaintance with Louisa Carnody, secretary to Judge Wright, the witness said that while it was not long since he gave her a peculiar way. He then explained about going into Judge Wright's chambers to ask about the law on an adoption case and of the judge refusing to give him counsel."

"I was what you might say called down by Judge Wright," he said, "and I perhaps showed my chagrin when I left the office. Carnody called me with the remark that all lawyers get that and that I shouldn't think anything about it."

Testimony in Whispers.

"Do you remember any more of the conversation with Judge Wright when he said if the case was tried in the District he would have found for the plaintiff?" asked Chairman McCoy.

Yes. Something that I would not like to get into the papers, and I would like to state it to the committee privately. I remember that the witness proceeded to the bench, where a whispered conversation was indulged in."

When explaining the reason for seeing Judge Wright after he was subpoenaed for the present hearing, Mr. Macdonald said that he wanted to return his money on some points. He desired to be a competent witness, and not to overlook anything that should be said or retain any important point."

"Don't you think it would have been better to rely on your own memory?" asked Chairman McCoy.

"I am relying on my own memory," responded the witness.

You knew Judge Darlington appeared for Judge Wright and that he was privileged to examine witnesses?" said the chairman.

He explained that he went to Judge Wright about the divorce case, "for the reason that he (Wright) was familiar with the case and I asked him to continue jurisdiction in the matter."

Carnody Caused Dismissal.

"What was his reason for not continuing in the case?" he was asked.

"It was just as I told Mr. Beall," replied the witness. "It had come to Judge Wright that his secretary, Louisa Carnody, had been around with Mrs. Rauscher, and because of the close association between the secretary and the judge, he did not think it wise and prudent and proper to hear the case."

The witness was only briefly cross-examined by Attorney Darlington, being asked the interval between the filing of the case in Virginia and the one in the District, and questioned if Judge Wright had ever intimated or suggested that the District case should be dismissed."

The witness replied in the negative in response to the latter query.

Charles A. Kelgwin, lawyer, testified that he had no connection with the Wright charges. After preliminary questions, Representative Beall asked:

Did you ever see Mr. Easy-Smith made an application to the Rauscher replevin suit from Judge Wright's court to another? If so, explain what you know about it."

"I started out of the courtroom that day and Mr. Easy-Smith asked me to remain awhile. He said he wanted a witness, adding something about he might be committed for contempt of court. I knew nothing about the case, so I gathered only an imperfect understanding about it. I heard a rather spirited colloquy between Judge Wright and Mr. Easy-Smith, the result being that the case was transferred to another court."

Referring to the Judge's charges, which Mr. Easy-Smith had testified were modified by Judge Wright after transcription, Congressman Beall asked:

It is unusual in this jurisdiction for a judge to make corrections in his charge after it is transcribed?"

"I cannot recall that it has ever been done."

Congressman Beall then read over the impeachment charges against Judge Wright, as made in the resolution, asking the witness if he knew anything about the alleged offenses therein recited. In every instance the witness said he had no personal knowledge regarding the alleged misconduct of the judge.

"Do you know of any other fact bearing on this question?" finally asked Congressman Beall.

Knows of No Impropriety.

"An inference may be drawn from one or two acts, taken in connection with others," he explained, "but I would not care to go into it unless the committee insists."

The witness was asked to consult privately with the committee, and after a whispered conversation he was excused from answering further questions, the committee deciding not to go into the matter presented.

Attorney Darlington, on cross-examination for Judge Wright, wanted to know if counsel for Mrs. Rauscher took part in the argument for the nullification of the replevin case. Mr. Kelgwin thought that Mr. Mather was there.

"Did not the lawyers, instead of Judge Wright, decide on Judge Gould?"

"My recollection has indicated. I know his name was mentioned by some one and everybody agreed."

"Is it not unusual for differences to arise between a judge and counsel regarding the accuracy of his charge?"

"I do not know. I do not recall any personal experience of the kind."

"Do you remember that Mr. Hinson's recollection of this charge was the same as that of Judge Wright?"

"I don't remember."

"Is it unusual for a judge to desire counsel to sit down while the court is talking?"

"I was referring to manner more than to substance."

"Is friction between counsel and judges unknown in your jurisdiction?"

"I can't say that it is."

The witness said he knew nothing of the reports of Mrs. Rauscher's visits to Judge Wright's chambers.
